Article 1 These regulations are established by NCHU “Regulations for the Administration of Graduate Student Scholarship and Student Aid of National Chung Hsing University.”

Article 2 The Departmental Graduate Scholarship and Financial Aid Review Committee comprises the Department Chair Advisor, Graduate Advisors, and the Departmental Student Affairs Committee. The Department Chair Advisor serves as the convener. The committee reviews applications and allocates scholarships and financial aid for the department’s graduate students. It may also revise these regulations as deemed necessary based on actual circumstances.

Article 3 The departmental graduate scholarships and financial aid are divided into two categories: scholarships and financial aid. Scholarships are merit-based and awarded to outstanding graduate students. Financial aid is need-based, and recipients are required to assist with teaching-related tasks within the department.

Article 4 Applications for financial aid are generally limited to first to third-year master's students and first to fifth-year doctoral students in the department. However, part-time students are not eligible to apply.

Article 5 Recipients of the Scholarship:

1. Scholarships for Incoming Students (Choose one to apply):

(1) Master's and doctoral students who are admitted as the top-ranked candidates through either the admission by recommendation or the general entrance exam and enroll in the same academic year will receive a scholarship of NT$6,000 per month during the first academic year (from September to June of the following year). Vacancies will not be filled. Part-time students are not eligible to apply.

(2) Graduates of this department who are admitted to the master's program through admission by recommendation and whose overall academic performance ranks within the top 20% of their class (inclusive) during their undergraduate studies and who enroll in the same academic year will be awarded a scholarship equivalent to the tuition and fees of the master's program in this department for each semester of the first academic year.

2. Outstanding academic research achievements of graduate students in this department are recognized according to the "Regulations for Academic Research Achievement Awards for Graduate Students of the Department of Chinese Literature, National Chung Hsing University,” and will be awarded after review.

Article 6 Any matters not covered by these regulations shall be governed by the university’s “Regulations for the Administration of Graduate Student Scholarship and Student Aid.”

Article 7 These regulations shall be implemented after being approved by the Department Affairs Meeting and submitted for the President’s approval following administrative procedures. The same process applies when making amendments.
